Dan and Dennis:

One clarification, the paper is from the Upper Snake River Tribal Foundation which includes the Snake River Tribes: Shoshone Bannock, Shoshone Paiute, Burns Paiute, and Fort McDermitt Paiute and Shoshone Tribes.

The Upper Columbia River Tribes are the northern Columbia River Tribes including Kootenai, Coeur d'Alene, Colville, Spokane and Kalispel Tribes.

All:

The Idaho water quality standards issue is likely to come up in the NTOC meeting next week. (See the below email and attachments.) We need to make sure the Administrator is prepared for Lee Juan Tyler bringing up the Shoshone Bannock and Upper Columbia River Tribes' concerns about utilization of treaty rights as a basis for decisions on the Idaho standard.

Dan, could you ask your team to put a one page brief together for the Administrator to receive from OITA on the issue? Thanks.

Lee Juan:

Based on your request for information leading up to your meeting with Gina McCarthy next week, I have put together a 2 page summary on the current Idaho fish consumption process. I've also attached the ATNI and NCAI resolutions that you introduced and were passed last fall at ATNI and NCAI in regard to the Idaho fish consumption process. I hope this helps and let me know if you have questions.
